

DEDIENNE AEROSPACE OPENS A NEW SUBSIDIARY IN SINGAPORE

Dedienne Aerospace is proud to announce the opening of its new plant in Seletar Aerospace Park in Singapore.

Dedienne Aerospace Singapore will provide its clients with a wide range of services and a high-level customer support. Our laboratory will be dedicated to load testing, calibration or tool validation. A large stock of products will be available for urgent needs or rental services.

The local production will ensure the development of new products thanks to the LEAP, UTAS and Rolls-Royce licenses. For example, the Trent 7000 will be exclusively manufactured in Singapore for the whole Dedienne Aerospace group.

Located in the heart of South-east Asia, the choice of Singapore was evident for the group. For the highly qualified teams, the primary commitment is to provide the customers with top-level quality products as well as premium customer service and support.

«The opening of this new subsidiary in Singapore is a continuation of the Dedienne Aerospace's development. Our goals remain the same : to provide a high level of expertise , ensure quality products and efficient services while being very close to our customers» explains Cédric Barbe, CEO.
